9th EURAM Early Career Colloquium

Rome March 18/20/2018

Are you an advanced PhD student? Are you a Postdoc? Are you a Junior Lecturer/Assistant Professor?

Do you want to be part of the “Young EURAM club” to share your early career experiences and gain insights?

The Early career Community, following the eight earlier successful European Academy of Management Early Career Colloquia held in Dublin, Innsbruck, Nuremberg, Liechtenstein, Armeria, Krakow, Halle and Rabat, is honoured to announce that the 9th EURAM Career Colloquium (EECC) Winter Olympics will be hosted by the University of Rome Tor Vergata in March 2018.

WHAT IS THE EURAM EARLY CAREER COLLOQUIUM?

- A Platform for early career academics
- A space to come together to discuss key challenges, learn from experts and share career related insights
- A forum for networking, knowledge exchange and development of research collaborations

WHAT WILL WE DO THERE?

- Founding, Connecting, and Sharing your research
- Exploring prospective collaborations
- Meeting the mentors
- Networking
- Having fun!

The 9th EECC is delighted to welcome you to Villa Mondragone (Frascati), a Renaissance papal Villa surrounded in the nature and in the history of Castelli Romani, just few minutes from Rome downtown and main airports.

The theme of the Rome EECC is “Leaders of Ideas”. Talks, interventions, and key-notes of our mentors and experts, as well as group discussions, will focus on the meanings of the relationship between organizational support on crafting new ideas and their entrepreneurial development, ranging from classics of organizational behaviour’s research to studies on strategy, management, and aesthetics. We want to promote dialogues on new ways on how, in organizations, individuals and groups might nurture ideas and organize the venturing momentum on this basis.

Participants will have the possibility to submit a revised manuscript to a dedicated EECC track at the EURAM 2018 in Reykjavik.
